

CPE Instructions

Each Infosecurity Magazine Online Summit session qualifies members of (ISC)² and ISACA for 1 CPE credit based on a minimum attendance time of 50 minutes or .50 CPE credit based on a minimum attendance time for 25 minutes.

In order to claim your credit(s) you will need to log in to your Infosecurity Magazine member account 48hrs after the session has been completed and download your CPE certificate which will have been generated if you meet the minimum attendance time. You are then responsible for submitting this to your accreditation body.

Please note certificates will be processed and made available to download 48hrs after your viewing.

If this is your first time joining our online summit with us you will have been prompted to enter your CPE number at registration which enables us to ensure your CPE certificate contains the relevant information for your accreditation body to process– if you did not enter your CPE number and would like to collect credits for attending future webinars please log into your account and add those details now.

CPE certificates cannot be created retrospectively.

For those of you who are members of other accreditation bodies, every attendee will receive an automated “thank you for attending” email after the event which can be provided as proof of attendance to manually claim credit yourselves. This is at your accreditation bodies’ discretion.
